

Small-Scale Curbs Seen Truman Key To Inflation; Seeks Congress' Signal

MAPS PROGRAM AS FINAL STEP ON PRICE SPIRAL

Cabinet Helps President Prepare Special Appeal Before Legislators Today

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16 (AP)—Well informed Administration sources predicted tonight President Truman will ask Congress in his speech tomorrow for authority to put controls on a limited number of cost-of-living items if other steps fail to halt the inflationary spiral.

These informants, unquoteable by name, said the President did not want the authority for immediate use but rather as a sort of last resort weapon.

Whether these controls would take the form of rationing and price restraints at the consumer level was not specified by the official.

The possibility that the latent power to ration cost-of-living articles and fix their prices might have a deterrent effect on inflationary trends has been suggested to President Truman by some of his advisers, it was reported.

Mr. Truman tonight completed work on his special message to Congress, scheduled for 1:30 p. m. tomorrow. The address is scheduled for broadcast by all major networks.

He spent three and a half hours today with Cabinet members and members of his staff, then began putting the message in final shape.

In a move apparently designed to prevent possible "leaks" of the contents of the message, the time lag between its availability to reporters and delivery to Congress was made unusually brief. Presidential Secretary Charles G. Ross announced it will not be available to newsmen until 12:30 p. m., an hour before Mr. Truman is due to begin speaking before a joint session of the Senate and House.

Informed sources generally agreed the President would ask for authority to allocate steel, wheat and other items in short supply; revival of credit controls and for continuation of export controls.

Ross told reporters: "The message will be from 4000 to 5000 words long and take about 30 minutes to deliver."

Mr. Truman called Congress back to work weeks ahead of its scheduled January session, saying European emergency needs and inflation at home are dual perils requiring action now.

The eve of the reconvening of the Republican-controlled 80th Congress found some influential Republicans on Capitol Hill saying that they are:

Stowe Church Feles Hungarian Minister At Service, Banquet

The Rev. Tibor Csikisz, newly-elected pastor of Hungarian Reformed churches at Stowe and Phoenixville, was welcomed by his Stowe congregation which meets in the building of St. Paul's Reformed church, with services in the church and a banquet in the old St. Gabriel's lodge hall Saturday evening.

Participating in the ceremonies were Dr. Bela Vasady, secretary of the World Council of Churches; the Rev. Paul C. Scheerer, pastor of St. Paul's church, and the Rev. Emil Nagy, manager of the Hungarian Federation of America.

Dr. Vasady, speaking in Hungarian before 25 persons at the church services, and later before 100 at the banquet, described the experiences shared by the Rev. Csikisz and himself while they were political prisoners in Hungary during the war.

The Rev. Nagy, toastmaster at the banquet, welcomed the Rev. Csikisz to his new charge, while the Rev. Scheerer also made his offer of fellowship and assistance to the new pastor.

Navy Unveils Its Jet-Propelled 'Skyrocket'

Behind a protective wall at El Segundo, Calif., is the U. S. Navy's new D-558-2 "Skyrocket," a jet and rocket propelled plane with sweptback wings and tail. The craft, which resembles a winged V-2 rocket, has a long pointed nose and slimy tapered fuselage. It is said to be the first sonic or supersonic type of plane capable of taking off under its own power. The plane took two years to build.

CO-ED IS RAPED, IN-LAW SLAIN

Michigan Pupil Identifies Photos of Two Suspects; Victim's Body Missing

RICHLAND CENTER, Wis., Nov. 16 (P)—A University of Michigan co-ed has "positively identified" pictures of two youths sought in connection with the girl's story that she was raped and her brother-in-law slain by the pair. Sheriff Loren E. Marshall of Richland county said tonight.

Marshall said the two youths, who were fleeing from a blood-stained automobile, both had criminal records and that a wide-spread search was being made for them. No warrants have been issued for their arrest as yet, the sheriff declared.

Edwin Wilkie, Dane county district attorney, said personal papers of one of the youths sought were found in the car, abandoned in a ditch, and that the two had been named by William Harris, 27, of Richland Center, who saw the youths flee and took the girl to authorities. The car also contained some of the girl's clothing.

The co-ed, Janet Ann Rosenblatt, 19, of Cleveland Heights, O., was quoted by Wilkie as saying her brother-in-law, Carl L. Carlson, 25, of Superior, Wis., was shot by one of the youths after they had offered the men a ride Friday night from Madison to Badger, Wis., a University of Wisconsin housing center 35 miles northwest of Madison.

Wilkie said she told him that while Carlson lay dead on the floor of the car, both men raped her. Her story related that after a stop at Richland Center during which one of the men changed his clothes in a house there, they disposed of the body, one of them mentioning the (Continued on Page Five)

Negro Pastor With Turban Finds South Hospitable

NEW YORK, Nov. 16 (P)—The Negro pastor of Holy Trinity Lutheran church in Jamaica, Queens, said today he wore a rented purple turban during a recent visit to Mobile, Ala., and was treated like a "visiting dignitary."

The Rev. Jesse Weyman Route, 39, who speaks six languages and holds three college degrees, said in an interview with the Long Island press that his "experiment" with the turban enabled him to meet white civic, social and political leaders during a week's stay in Mobile.

"I just told them I was an apostle of human relations seeing how other people lived," Route said.

The pastor, who also is a singer and pianist, said he rented the turban from a New York costumer and put it on in Washington, D. C., before boarding a white passenger car of a segregated train.

Thereafter, he said, he merely

Tokyo Law Takes Fun Out of Life

TOKYO, Monday, Nov. 17 (P)—Pinching girls on crowded streetcars and kissing in public were banned by the police today.

The kissing ordinance, curiously, excepted cases where "love is naturally expressed on a bench in a public park."

The other law provided for not more than seven years imprisonment for those who "grasp the hand of a girl or pinch her hips in a jammed streetcar."

Robert St. John To Be Honored At Reception

A reception for Robert St. John, noted foreign correspondent, who will speak at Town Hall Thursday night, will be held at the Brookside Country club following the meeting, Mrs. J. Robert Gray, secretary of the Town Hall committee, announced yesterday.

Mrs. Gray said the reception would be open to all members of the Foreigners' Club and that memberships still may be purchased at The Mercury or from members of the Town Hall committee.

St. John, who spent ten months in Europe, will speak Thursday night on conditions in Yugoslavia and Greece, one of the most pressing questions facing the United Nations today.

While in Europe, he gathered material for a new book, "The Silent People Speak," which will appear in 1948. Members of Town Hall at the reception may be able to hear some of the stories which go to make up the book.

In revisiting Europe after the war, St. John stumbled onto the story of a man in the town of Gorasde on the Drina river who was one of thousands whose throats were cut and who were thrown into the river. The tale told how, by some miracle, the cold water revived him and tossed him down the river right onto his own doorstep.

St. John had one of his most exciting if unpleasant personal experiences in Athens, Greece. For two days and three nights, he was "shadowed" by a man whom he had threatened to kill during the war if he ever saw him again. The man now had become one of the most important leaders of the government.

Many similar incidents occurred during the time he spent in the Balkans studying the conditions which exist in countries within the Russian sphere of influence. He will bring first-hand reports of those conditions to the members of Town Hall.

Arrangements for the reception will be in charge of a committee made up of the officers of Town Hall under the direction of Mrs. Gray. They are Stanley I. Davenport, president, E. L. Pickard, Richard Page, Thomas F. Storm, and George D. Robbins, moderator of Thursday night's meeting.

Donation Day Thursday For Pottstown Hospital

School children in the schools of Pottstown, Spring City, Royersford, Collegeville and the rural areas will have an opportunity to make their annual gifts of food to Pottstown hospital when the institution conducts Donation Day Thursday.

Trucks will be sent to the schools to pick up the donations, which may include virtually any type of food, especially canned and packaged goods.

Mrs. J. G. Ludwick heads the 20-woman special committee in charge of Donation Day.

5 PERSONS DEAD AS BLAST ROCKS IDAHO TAVERN

Nearly 50 Others Hurt; Officials Cite Gas Range As Source of Explosion

NAMPA, Idaho, Nov. 16 (AP)—Rescuers pulled five bodies from the wreckage of a restaurant-tavern building demolished last night by an explosion that injured nearly 50 persons.

Fire Chief L. T. Lessinger said today he believed the explosion occurred in a gas range in the restaurant.

"We are reasonably satisfied there are no more bodies in the building," Lessinger said. "We are ending the search for the time being."

Twenty-nine persons remained in Mercy hospital and five in the Samaritan hospital.

An Army air rescue squadron plane from Hamilton Field, Calif., carrying 18 cases of blood plasma for the victims, arrived at the Boise, Idaho airport today.

Ten of the 18 cases, requested last night by the Idaho department of public health, were taken to Nampa by department director L. G. Peterson and Frank Parcher of Boise, American Red Cross disaster representative.

The blast sent patrons of the Forbidden Palace restaurant and Alibi inn reeling as timbers and bricks fell among them.

Found dead in the two-story brick and frame building were Mrs. Gertrude Peterson, Eugene Janssen, 28, Nampa truck driver; William E. Vrove, 45, Pop Fong and Kim H. Fong, 34, who recently returned to Nampa from China with his bride. She was slightly hurt.

Police officer Fred Cardwell shortly after the explosion said a truck was delivering butane at the rear of the building and at first it was theorized the truck backed into an electric wire.

After further investigation Lessinger said it was unlikely the blast occurred where the gas delivery was being made. The truck, he explained, was not badly damaged and those most critically hurt were in the cafe.

"There was a big explosion that seemed to come from the back end of the building," said Jack McGuire, a bartender. "I ran outside and then back in and helped pull out Earl Vale (owner of the inn). He had a broken leg."

"I helped Fred Cardwell, a policeman, pull out four other injured persons. There were 15 to 17 people in the Alibi."

"There were a lot of fumes in the building and I was nearly overcome while trying to pull out some of the people. I started to get sick so I came out for a while. Then I went back and got the money out of the cash register and put it in a safe place. The clock over the bar stopped at 8:21."

Several persons remained trapped for an hour or longer.

The Waddell apartments and the Muller dairy building also were damaged, and the explosion broke windows in many buildings in the business section of this western Idaho city of an estimated 15,000 population.

Player Is Injured In Football Game

A Phoenixville football player was admitted to Pottstown hospital yesterday afternoon after he had been knocked unconscious in a game here between Pottstown North End and Norco.

He is George Kish, 21, of 35 Walnut street, Phoenixville. He was in a satisfactory condition last night according to Dr. R. A. Boykiv, suffering a possible fracture of the skull and a contusion of the brain.

The right end for North End was hurt in the third quarter of the game, which North End won 13-13, and was driven to the hospital by Charles Kelly, 409 Vanderslice street, Phoenixville.

He remained unconscious for 15 minutes after he arrived at the hospital, Dr. Boykiv said.

The youth had been injured earlier in the game but insisted he was able to continue playing.

Final Report Due Today In Red Feather Drive

The fifth report of the 17th annual Community Chest campaign will be made at 12:10 p. m. today in the YMCA auditorium.

After a total of $79,419 was reported last week, at what had been planned for the final meeting, an extension was decided upon to allow the workers to try to reach the goal of $116,971.

General Chairman William H. Curtis urged all the Chest workers to visit every prospective contributor before today's meeting.

Prizes will be awarded to members of the collecting team who turn in the best reports at today's meeting.

Pottstown's contribution to the Friendship Train—$1865 worth of food plus a carload of wheat from the Kinsey Distilling company—will be attached to one section of the train in Philadelphia's Broad Street station this afternoon.

The check for the $1865 collected during the short, intensive drive here will be presented to Frank C. P. McGlynn at the Philadelphia station by Burgess William A. Griffith, Carl M. Binder, treasurer of the local train group, and Daniel S. Drummheller, a committee member who was in charge of collections from clubs.

This money already has been converted into food. Saturday morning after the last coin box had been emptied and the last group donation received, Ralph H. Spare, committee treasurer, called the Friendship Train heads in Philadelphia, pledging the amount.

Train officials there went ahead and bought that amount of the foods most vitally needed in Europe.

Donations received early Saturday included $50 from the Eastern Star; $5 from the King's Daughters society, and $10 collected from individuals by Jane Jacketti, Stowe.

A five-car token section of the train to aid hungry Europe will arrive at Broad Street station for presentation ceremonies. Speakers at the ceremonies will include Lieutenant Governor Daniel B. Suchler and Bernard Samuel, Philadelphia mayor.

The rest of southeastern Pennsylvania's contribution—expected to exceed 20 cars because of the assistance of such communities as Pottstown—will be loaded at a freight yard.

Late last night the Friendship Train, which has split into three sections, was moving through Pennsylvania and New York, adding carloads of food to the 152 already gathered across the country since Nov. 7, when the train left Los Angeles.

It soon was found that Pennsylvania's train was growing too big, and it was split into two sections. The first left Harrisburg yesterday afternoon and the second arrived there just after midnight.

The New York state section rolled into Buffalo last night, where a message was received from Governor Thomas E. Dewey who termed the train, "an important contribution to world peace."

Season's First Snow Falls, Then Fizzles Into a Drizzle

Pottstown's weekend weather was original and bizarre and not entirely satisfactory to those out in it.

Saturday morning at 10:20 o'clock the season's first snow flurry fell in big, wet-kissed flakes, melting almost immediately but lasting long enough to arouse one sleep-happy Boyertown boy to Quixotic action: He was seen gamely "coasting" down East Philadelphia avenue's wet but completely bare surface.

This year's first snow, weak as it was, came early compared to the past two years.

In 1945, on the day Admiral Byrd left for the Antarctic, Dec. 2, and after a Fall that set many new heat records, the first snow fell in a heavy flurry at night. Last year it came down on Nov. 29.

The weekend's other phenomenon was the almost narcotic behavior of the mercury.

For 36 hours, between 9 p. m. Friday and 9 a. m. yesterday, it varied no more than three degrees, staying almost the entire time at 39.

Saturday night's murky drizzle, sometimes as hard to see through as a Zombie, contributed to at least one auto accident and made driving bad for all.

Despite a rise to 52 yesterday afternoon, the weatherman's flir for today and tomorrow is cloudy and cold.

Spring Mount Man Freed on $500 Bail

Charles Kulp, Spring Mount, whose trail of misfortune ended Friday in prison on a drunken driving charge, is free today under $500 bail.

After seeing his wife leave and his home burn to the ground, Kulp crashed into three bungalows near Collegeville early Friday morning.

He was taken by Collegeville Police Chief George Moyer to Montgomery county prison where he was detained for a few hours. He later was given a hearing before Justice of the Peace Arthur Rasmussen, Collegeville, who set the bail, which Kulp met by posting bond.

Moyer said last night that Kulp would probably be brought to trial in Norristown Friday. Moyer added that Kulp probably would plead guilty.

If he does, Kulp will have a chance to see if his bad luck streak has ended. Meanwhile, he is living with friends in Spring Mount.

Audience of 1000 Pleased By Band's Concert Program

By JACK BINDER (Mercury Staff Writer)

Combining musicianship of a high standard with a strong flavor of the theatrical in style of rendition, the Pottstown band made a big hit yesterday afternoon in a concert presented in the Senior High school auditorium.

The audience, numbering 1000, evinced its keen enjoyment of the diversified program with liberal applause.

The program presented by Director William F. Lamb Jr. had a happy blending of the instrumental and vocal types of music. This made its reception doubly enjoyable on its special arrangements which at times are quite striking, and at all times effective.

Officials of the Firestone plant last night declined to comment on the causes and results of a possible strike.

At a union meeting, held yesterday afternoon in CIO hall, King street, the 380 workers present heard Howard and H. L. Bosley, of Newark, N. J., the district president, discuss the wage negotiations and urge them to support the negotiating committee in Wednesday's strike vote, which will be held from 7 a. m. until 5:30 p. m. in CIO hall.

The last meeting of union, management and government conciliators was on Oct. 29, and Du-jack declared that no more meetings will be held before Wednesday's voting.

Although the contract between the union and the company will run until March 22, 1948, the wage provisions expired the past Aug. 22, and it was little more than a week later that the question of the wage increase was raised.

The demands of Local 336 follow the pattern of the wage increases in other rubber industry plants, (Continued on Page Eight)

MOTORIST HURT IN AUTO CRASH

Royersford Man's Injuries Slight; Traffic Is Light As Result of Bad Weather

Some of the Fall's most inclement weather held traffic to a minimum over the weekend and, as a result, the highway accident toll in the Pottstown area was confined to three mishaps in which one motorist was slightly injured.

He was Victor H. Shanley, of 314 Spring street, Royersford, who was treated in Memorial hospital's dispensary early yesterday morning for an injury to his kneecap, incurred when he struck two parked cars on Moser road, north of South street.

Shanley was driving south on Moser road, near the South street intersection, when he saw two cars turn left from South street onto Moser road.

One started to pass, Shanley told police, and to avoid a collision he put on the brakes, skidding into one parked car and careening into a second. Both were owned by Louis P. Young, of South street and Moser road.

None of the other three occupants of the car were injured.

The entire front of Shanley's car was damaged and the right half of the windshield cracked. One of Young's sedans suffered damage to both the front and rear ends, while the other escaped with a damaged rear bumper.

The road was wet at the time of the collision, which was investigated by Motor Patrolmen Thomas Lawler and Robert Houser.

Two two-car collisions took place within 15 minutes of each other late yesterday afternoon.

At 4:40 p. m., Lawrence Hart, of 16 Chestnut street, and David Conover, of Parkerford, were involved in a crash at Beech and (Continued on Page Five)

UNION APPROVES STRIKE BALLOT AT FIRESTONE

15-Cent Wage Increase In Dispute; Vote to Be Taken by Local Wednesday

A strike vote among the workers of the Firestone Tire and Rubber company plant will be taken Wednesday, it was announced yesterday after a meeting of Local 336, United Rubber Workers of America (CIO).

If a strike is called, it will affect about 2200 employees of the largest industry in the Pottstown area.

The issue, according to Stephen Dujack, president of Local 336, is one of wages. The union has asked for a 15-cent an hour increase, and management has replied with its own offer of a paid holiday substitute for the pay boost.

Firestone's proposal would pay all employees with seniority pay for six holidays not worked. The regular rate would be paid to day workers, and 10 cents more than the base rate would go to piece workers.

Straight time would be paid for all Saturdays worked after a holiday that was paid for but not worked. That is, the union informed its members, the company would require that a man work the day before and the day after a holiday to be paid.

In addition, if work was scheduled for a holiday and the employee failed to report, he would not be paid.

It is this set of proposals that the union's negotiating committee, headed by Fred L. Howard, of Norristown, decided to reject after more than two months of meeting with representatives of Firestone and Federal and State labor conciliators.

Officials of the Firestone plant last night declined to comment on the causes and results of a possible strike.

GOP ASPIRANTS FOR PRESIDENCY OPPOSE TRUMAN

Taft, Stassen, Warren Prepare Challenges on Major Political Issues

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16 (AP)—Prospective Republican presidential nominees in and out of Congress appeared today to be preparing to challenge President Truman on major political issues at every turn of the road in the next seven months.

Central figure in the expected onslaught on the President's political position is likely to be Senator Taft of Ohio. Taft, as chairman of the Senate's Republican policy committee, is in the best position to point up sharply his differences with the President.

Former Gov. Harold E. Stassen of Minnesota, another who is officially in the race, plans a great many speeches but lacks the Washington forum that is available to Taft. Gov. Earl Warren of California, the third likely to attempt to contrast his programs with those of the President for the benefit of the delegates who will go about the job of picking a GOP nominee at Philadelphia next June.

All of these prospective nominees are said to view Mr. Truman's re-nomination by the Democrats as certain. For that reason, all are likely to attempt to contrast their programs with those of the President for the benefit of the delegates who will go about the job of picking a GOP nominee at Philadelphia next June.

This chorus may be swelled in Congress by the political statements of such potential favorite sons as Speaker Martin (R-Mass) of the House, House majority leader Hatcher (R-Ill.), Senator Baldwin (R-Conn.), Senator Martin (R-Pa.), Senator Kern (R-Mo) and others.

Gens. Dwight D. Eisenhower and Douglas MacArthur, mentioned as possible candidates, can't talk much while they are in the Army but may have something to say afterwards.

Taft, however, holds a key spot and there is every evidence that he plans to make the most of it when his ideas and those of the President clash. The two have exchanged hot words before—at long range—over such issues as price control, taxes and government spending.

The Ohio senator already has challenged Secretary of State Marshall's estimate that it will be necessary for this country to add $2,650,000,000 to its foreign spending before July 1 to carry out emergency and long-range aid to Europe.

Lebanese Assails Palestine Partition

NEW YORK, Nov. 16 (AP)—Dr. Charles Malik, Lebanese delegate to the United Nations, launched a bitter attack on the Palestine partition proposal today and described Soviet-American agreement on the plan for dividing the Holy Land into separate Arab and Jewish countries as being "only skin-deep."

"If they really agree," the Arab diplomat said in a radio forum in which Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt acted as moderator, "why haven't they produced the plan of partition by now, when they are 20 days overdue in submitting it?"

Federal Trade Group Charges Steel Makers Limit Production

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16 (AP)—The Federal Trade Commission announced today that it has broadened its steel price-fixing complaint to include statements that the steel industry has forestalled increases in production facilities and that its selling methods discriminate against the West coast.

In general the amended complaint is similar to the one issued the past August. But, in addition to the new items, it differs in these respects:

1. The original complaint named the American Iron & Steel Institute, New York, and 26 corporations as representatives of the entire membership. The new complaint names the institute and 101 steel producers.

Lynn C. Paulson, FTC attorney, said not all 101 companies named are members of the institute. As an example, he said, some subsidiaries of the larger companies named are not members.

2. The original complaint was directed against producers of steel and iron. The new complaint is restricted to steel.

Chinese Planes Bring Supplies To Danger Spot

PEIPING, Monday, Nov. 17 (AP)—Government planes flew ammunition and supplies today to Paoing as heavy Communist troop movements appeared to increase the peril to that capital of Hopei province.

While the government seemed confident the city could be held, there was no denying its loss would threaten both Peiping, 75 miles to the north, and Tientsin, about the same distance northeast.

(Meanwhile, pro-government dispatches to Nanking reported heavy fighting seven miles from Suchow, huge nation's base northwest of the capital.)

(These accounts asserted Suchow's outer defense perimeter was "stabilized" after the government threw in strong reinforcements. Government warplanes were reported to have inflicted severe casualties on the raiding troops of Communist Gen. Chen Yi.)

Former Police Chief Slain by Gunman; Wife Shares Fate

CHICAGO, Nov. 16 (AP)—Shotgun charges blasted away the lives of a former suburban police chief and his wife early today within a few feet of their home in Posen on Chicago's southern outskirts.

The dead were Stanley Rzepa and his wife, Anna, both 31.

Rzepa had resigned as head of the Posen police department the past month after he was fined $200 and costs in Criminal court Oct. 21 following his plea of guilt to charges of malfeasance and illegal sale of fireworks.

Wilburn Kennedy, acting chief of the Illinois State police, said Rzepa and his wife were slain as they walked toward about 5:30 a. m. from Rzepa's tavern, the Green Villa, in Posen.

"It appears that the killers hid behind the house and fired at Rzepa from close range as he left his automobile," Kennedy said. "Mrs. Rzepa screamed, and was shot a moment later. The men ran to an automobile and fled in it."

Rzepa was shot in the left side of the head and in the back. His wife,

District Missionary Institute to Be Held At First Methodist Church Tomorrow

A district missionary institute will be held tomorrow in the First Methodist church, with morning, afternoon and evening sessions.

The featured speaker at the afternoon and evening meetings will be Dr. Earle M. Rugg, of Rochester, N. Y., who for 20 years has been principal of the Raevind Institute, an industrial and agricultural training school at Raevind, a railroad center near Lahore, India.

Dr. Rugg was well prepared for his specialized missionary service. He is a graduate of the University of Rochester, N. Y. and he studied theology at Boston college. He first went to India in 1916 and has seen service in Ajmer, Phalar and Lahore. He has represented the Indus River conference of the Methodist church at general conference sessions in the United States a number of times.

Delegates from various churches in the Northwest district of the Philadelphia Methodist conference, extending from Philadelphia to Shenandoah, will attend tomorrow's institute.

The morning session, opening at 10:30 o'clock, is a meeting of the District Women's Society of Christ. An address will be made by Mrs. C. D. Warlow on the theme, "World Evangelism."

In the afternoon, at 2:30 o'clock, Dr. Rugg will speak, with the keynote address being delivered by the Rev. Walter J. Leppert, conference missionary secretary. Other addresses will be made by the Rev. Horace N. Olevier, pastor of the host church, on the subject, "What We Are Giving," and by the Rev. Paul W. Peley, of Jenkintown, whose subject will be "Missionary Education."

The evening session will open at 7:30 o'clock. The district superintendent, Dr. John D. Harr, will preside. A discussion of missions in the conference will be made by Dr. Franklin Duncombe, president of the conference board of missions.

DC3 Forced Down; Passengers Unhurt

DETROIT, Nov. 16 (AP)—A land-bound Eastern Airlines two-engine plane was forced down tonight about five miles east of Willow Run airport shortly after taking off on a scheduled flight.

An airlines official said the plane, a DC3 piloted by Capt. Thad J. Royall, made a "skilful landing" without injury to any of the 19 passengers aboard.

The official said that shortly after the takeoff, Capt. Royall sensed that a "runaway propeller" had developed and he immediately maneuvered the ship for a landing almost midway between the Willow Run and Wayne county airports, about ten miles west of Detroit.

The plane, the airlines official added, was virtually undamaged.

State police at the nearby Ypsilanti, Mich., post said the airliner had crashlanded with only small damage and no fire had started, although fire fighting equipment was rushed to the scene.

craft apparently hadn't gained much altitude in the takeoff because it was resting near the Beck road, which is the eastern border of Willow Run airport.

Children do not know how their parents love them, and they never will till the grave closes over those parents, or till they have children of their own.—Cooke.

Town Hall is Yours
POTTSTOWN'S Town Hall begins another season Thursday. This community feature, which annually brings some of the keenest minds of the nation here, first was suggested editorially by The Mercury. Interested citizens sponsored the idea, began a series of lectures that highlighted Pottstown's intellectual life for the past few Winter seasons. This year the drive for memberships has not gone over well. Because Town Hall directors feel the lectures fill such an important niche in community life, they ask for a nobler response. To this end, Mrs. Esther Grey, secretary of Town Hall, has written the following guest editorial:

The purpose of Town Hall is to bring to Pottstown speakers of national prominence who, by their accomplishments, have proved their right to speak on the chosen topics; also to make the lectures available to everyone through a low admission fee. This can be done only if the membership is extremely large, for good speakers, like everything else of superior quality, carry a high price tag. This year the directors have arranged a program that would headline news for any forum, even in large cities. Any two of the speakers are worth the membership fee, yet Pottstown is slow in responding.

Suppose a member can not attend all the lectures? He still will be hearing outstanding men at a very small cost. In addition, he has the satisfaction of knowing he has made the program possible.

Each year five complimentary memberships are given to honor students in the Pottstown Junior and Senior High schools, West Pottsgrove and North Coventry High schools and The Hill school. This also is a contribution to the cultural life of Pottstown by the members of Town Hall. Members of Town Hall have a voice in the management of its affairs either directly or through the directors they elect. It is a non profit organization and each year's program must carry itself.

The directors are trying very hard to obtain the 800 members necessary to pay for the program that has been arranged. If the goal is not reached, naturally part of the program will have to be canceled. It is not possible for 20 men and women to contact everyone who might find membership in Town Hall a profitable investment in knowledge and pleasure. The active help of all those who feel Town Hall is important to them and to Pottstown is needed. Memberships may be obtained from any director. The Mercury office, or the secretary.

If you want Town Hall it is up to you.

Half a Loaf is Better
MANY Pottstown persons, interested in food savings, have suggested that bakers bake some of their loaves half the present size. This certainly would conserve grain. The suggestion makes good sense.

The reasoning behind the suggestion is that many families eat only part of a loaf of bread before it becomes stale. Half-size loaves—at, of course, half the price of the full size—would not only conserve grain. They would also conserve consumers' money and enable them to have fresh bread all the time. The idea is so sensible that it recommends itself for permanent use.

Record As Farm Hand

AT 85 Christian Larsen still is working as a hired man on the farm where he first "hired out" 55 years ago—a record of some kind. He began in 1892 for Freeman Elmhurst of Dane county, Wis. After Elmhurst's death he worked for his son, and after the son's retirement he kept right on working. He didn't give up milking cows until last year. He never married. Asked why he stayed so long on one farm, Mr. Larsen said: "Seems I was always wanted."

Savior and Santa Claus
To the Editor: In reply to Opal's letter, "Hunter at Home," Readers Say, Nov. 13, I am sure she has the sympathy of many millions of people over this great U. S. A. of ours. But it isn't strange of us to be sending help and succor to the foreign lands as we have been doing it for the past 40 years. But what is strange is the fact and unexplainable reason why these people have not in three years time been able to arouse themselves in self-supporting and making themselves helpful citizens of their world. That is the stranger question.

It's possible our help and charity have become a looked-for thing these many years so that they have become strangers to work and self-help. We also have gone through desperate times and panics, but did we sit back and lament for someone to come feed us from year to year? They sure had the "knack" and "git up" to start and fight many wars in these years and always our country had to go in and be the savior as well as the Santa Claus.

Millions of our families are not getting what is needed to keep them on the high standard of life that is proclaimed for us, but we are still asked to pull in our belts, smile and like it. And while the Freedom Train is rolling across the country, extolling the merits of democracy and freedom, the Freedom Train is close behind bringing carloads of food and supplies for those who are still hungry and cold. President is getting ready to hand out billions of dollars to those same countries.

At this same time there is one war-torn and hunger-ridden country, giving a wedding party for a princess. Their people can eat cake if they choose while the princess has a 1200-pound cake eight feet high to nibble on, with 1700 cases of booze besides champagne, 600 turkeys, 400 hams, 3000 eggs at $1 per egg and five tons of the rarest and finest food. While the masses go hungry and homeless, we are asked to think nothing of it but pull in our belts another notch and smile. Truly there is a limit to all things, and I believe that time is about to occur. Pottstown DUBIOUS

The Worry Clinic
By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

HELENE H., 28, is the mother of a little girl. "Dr. Crane, please tell me what I can do to get over my terrible fear," she began in a panicky voice. "Everything seems unreal to me, and I wonder if I am not somebody else. People look strange to me, and I keep thinking I must be losing my mind. "I feel dazed and can't concentrate on a thing. I hardly know what I am doing all day. And when my husband comes home, I just sit and cry for no reason at all. He is very good to me, but still I cry. "When I start to tell him all the cute things the baby does, my mind just goes blank. Oh, Dr. Crane, please tell me if I am losing my mind! I can't stand it much longer."

This is an intricate case and difficult to explain entirely in our brief space. It demonstrates the "death wish" which is not at all uncommon. Men and women suffer from it. And here's how it develops. In our childhood, there are selfish little animals, for generosity and altruism are learned reactions, the product of Sunday school and parental training.

At the outset, however, it is everybody for himself. We don't want to share. And if we, as was true of Helene in her youth, have been the first child for several years, and then find a new baby arrive without any previous warning, we resent the new baby brother or sister.

We are jealous of the intruder, who steals much of the parental attention which used to be 100 percent our own. So we hate the newcomer. Children don't love their brothers and sisters at the start, for love is a cluster of habits which develop only from training.

At the outset, brothers and sisters hate each other. One little boy not long ago said of his younger brother, "Don't you think we should kill Jimmie?" He meant this, and uttered it as unemotionally as if he were remarking, "Shouldn't we kill a chicken for Sunday dinner?"

Helene confessed a strong childhood dislike of her little sister, two years younger than herself. In later adult life, this basic unrecurrent of hostility still remained.

If you don't believe this is true, notice how much family strife suddenly springs up in apparently happy families at the partitioning of family heirlooms after the parents' death. Long-cherished childhood amusements then quickly flare up, and feuds are evoked despite college education and adult age.

When Helene had her baby girl, she subconsciously felt the exclusion of the child. As she told me, her mind went blank whenever she tried to play her husband about the baby's care. "Why did this happen?" Because she felt that some of her husband's love was being diverted to the baby. Since this situation was quite similar to her own childhood dilemma when a baby sister stole part of her Daddy's attention from herself, Helene felt a surge of irritation and anger.

Being an adult, she needs from such un-Christian ideas. So she thinks she must be an inhuman monster. The next thought is, "God will surely punish me for such evil thoughts."

And the two chief forms of divine punishment which next come to mind are insanity or sudden death. Hence, Helene begins to assume various attitudes which she thinks the insane may adopt, because she thinks she OUGHT to be punished by Almighty God for her abnormal thoughts!

Up to the very moment of child-birth, she was the subject of comment and solicitude from husband, as well as the relative.

WASHINGTON Little Comfort Seen In U. S. Aid Plan
By RAY TUCKER

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16.—Members of Congress got a few grains of comfort on the European situation from off-the-record assurances that American aid should restore the principal western nations to a stronger position, industrially and economically, than they occupied before Hitler's 1939 invasion.

Again and again, Secretary Marshall and other Administration spokesmen were asked how confident they were that his plan had not been correctly described as "operations rathole," a phrase which so many M. C.'s have employed.

Although he did not give absolute assurance of its success, he thought that the anti-Communist bloc of Holland, Belgium, Luxembourg and France would become going nations again by 1951 as a result of any long-term recovery program.

In fact, his comparison of destruction in France, the pivotal country on the continent, and her present state surprised those of his listeners who, not having served on the Herter-Eaton Committee, did not make an on-the-ground study. Here is a revealing excerpt from one confidential report on France as it lay prostrate on Liberation Day in May of 1945 and as it stands now:

FRANCE: "France emerged from the war with her economic system badly distorted in comparison with the stability of her prewar economy. Prior to 1939, food represented only 10 percent of her imports, and France was nearly self-sufficient in basic food requirements."

"Other raw materials, however, including one-third of her coal and almost all of her petroleum, constituted 70 percent of French imports. On balance, France had a substantial trade deficit, which was usually covered without difficulty by corresponding earnings from noncommercial sources such as shipping services, tourist trade etc. The United States in 1938 supplied 11 percent of French imports."

HAVOC: For the first time, French statesmen, economists and military leaders disclosed to foreign investigators the real extent of the havoc which the Germans wreaked on their country during the invasion and occupation:

"The loss during the war as a result of destruction and seizures by the enemy has been estimated as high as $21,000,000,000, but this takes no account of the capital deterioration due to lack of maintenance and raw materials and general dislocation of economic relationships."

"The extent of the shock to French industry is graphically illustrated by the index of industrial production (1938 equals 100) which averaged 41 for 1944 and stood at only 60 even at the end of 1945. (Incidentally, 1938 was not a prosperous or productive year—Ed. note.)"

DAMAGE: "In terms of physical damage, it is estimated that in France one building out of 22 had been destroyed or damaged, as compared with one out of 25 in Holland, one out of 38 in Belgium, and one out of 65 in England (Statistics supplied by the French Government.)"

"The damage may well be overestimated, as war damage usually is. But it is critically serious. The effect on the productivity of the labor force has been equally striking, the French general average being 78 percent of the prewar base."

COMEBACK: The French comeback, as well as the Paris planners' eventual hopes under the American-aid program, is described as follows:

"Through the efforts of the French people and with substantial American assistance at nearly $2,000,000,000 and other postwar aid, the French economy gradually recovered from the low point of the Liberation and reached a high point in October of 1946, when the index of industrial production reached 93 percent of 1938 (Bank of France.)"

"Since that time, it has averaged between 85 and 90 percent. The reasons for this decline will be referred to in the ensuing discussion of the principal factors in the present situation. (These are shortages of basic materials such as coal, steel, machinery, food and fertilizer, loss of foreign trade, domestic inflation and lack of dollars for purchasing abroad—Ed. note.)"

RESTORING: "Although there is a decline at present, gas studies had previously seen made after the war in restoring important segments of the economy. For example, by the end of 1946, all the de-mining and clearing of battle areas had been accomplished and 60 percent of the repairs of partially destroyed buildings had been completed."

"Likewise, remarkable progress had been made in restoring the transportation system. Steam locomotives, roughly 12,000 serviceable in 1939 and 3000 in September of 1944, numbered 9700 serviceable in August of 1947."

"Comparable progress was made for freight cars and other categories of rolling stock. Even with only 60 or 70 percent of the rolling stock available in 1938, the railways are moving in 1947 almost 110 percent of the tonnage moved in a similar period in 1938 (U. S. Embassy, Paris, as source.)"

SACRIFICES: In January of this year, Paris adopted the so-called Monnet recovery plan, which has been qualified under American aid and advisement. If implemented by the Marshall program it is expected to increase output at least 60 percent above 1938's by the end of 1950, through rebuilding such "basic industries"—coal, power, steel, cement, agriculture, machinery and transport.

From this data, members of Congress conclude that there is a chance to achieve the long-range purpose of the Marshall Plan—namely, to place Western Europe on its economic feet; and checkmate Russia. But it is equally obvious that the U. S. must make sacrifices untold and unexpected by the people.

It May Waste a Trick

LEADING AWAY from an ace against a suit contract will cost you side a trick, almost certainly, whenever the declarer happens to have the king on his side and a singleton in his own hand or the dummy. In such cases, which are frequent, your ace is doomed to be ruffed later. The lead away from a king, however, will practically never prove costly if your partner has either the queen or the ace. Why is it, then, that so many players balk about leading from a king, yet like to lead from an ace? You answer. We can't.

That is pretty bad bidding, of a style done by many otherwise splendid players who are over-interested in telling their partners every possible fact about their hands. North should have raised spades, and the side should have reached game without telling the opponents how to defend against the contract. If that had been done, a club would have been the lead, enabling South to take out trumps and then discard three diamonds on clubs to make an unbid small slam.

With the actual bidding, however, good defense would have set the contract. With spades and clubs out of consideration, the heart A would have been the best lead, or possibly the diamond 2—as that could cost nothing if East had either the A or Q. In either event, the defense would have been effective, as the heart A lead would have brought a low card from East, calling for a switch to the diamond suit, in which the 2 was the correct card. One trick in hearts plus three in diamonds would have been enough South.

But West chose to underlead his heart A, opening the 3. That was virtually sure to do the defense harm unless East held the K, which he did not. South won with the K, and then proceeded with the same kind of play as if a club had been led, except that one club was ruffed to set up the suit, making possible only two diamond discards. Guessing the club finesse would have produced an unbid grand slam, instead of the unbid small one.

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 16—Starting gun has been fired in the race for the star part in the movie "Annie Get Your Gun" that Merle will make. But our bet is still on Judy Garland after she finishes "Easter Parade" which starts this month co-starring Fred Astaire. The grapevine has Ann Southern and Betty Garrett both as "dark horses" for the "Annie" role but don't hold your breath till they get it! Ty Power isn't here to sleep in it, but that seven-foot bed he ordered before he went firing all over the world has been set up in his new Brentwood home. The special blankets for it measure nine feet by nine feet. Bet he wishes he had those long comforters with him in Italy where coal is short. His stay in Europe has been prolonged and Liana Turner is doing some impatient foot-tapping in the U. S. A. Arthur Murray's attractive twin daughters, Phyllis and Jane, are flying to Filmmile to test for roles in that Teen-Ager series at Monogram.

Judy Garland

Rita Johnson and "Wildman" Pritchard, the moneybags, were a two at Ciro's. Things were very quiet at the latest Pritchard party the other night. Only two fist-fights. . . Lou Nova the ex-fighter is now a real-estate man in the San Fernando Valley. . . A reducing wiz has taken 12 pounds off Barbara Whiting and expects to get another 15 off by Christmas.

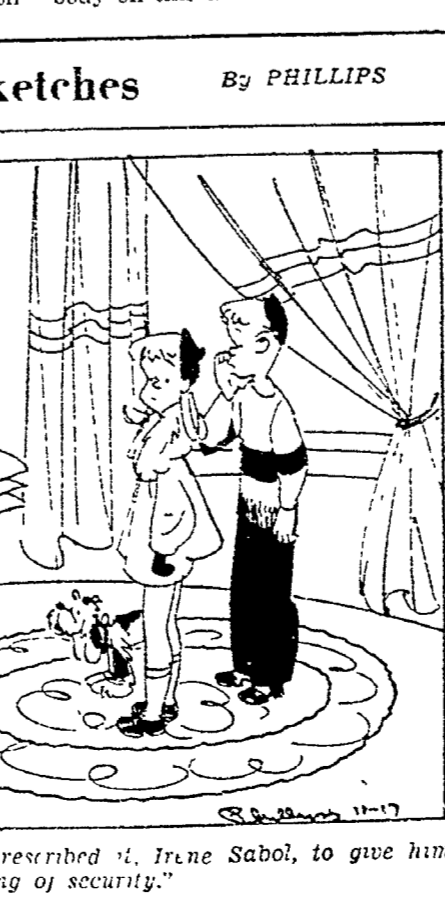

Ina Claire, here on her tour with "The Parol Weakness" and looking younger and lovelier than ever, says, "It's not the cream you slap on your face, nor the color of your make-up that keeps women attractive. It's your attitude toward life. If you're bored — you're old!" How right she is!

Barbara Stanwyck was supposed to make "Be Still, My Love" for Hal Wallis, as her next but there's been a big switch and she will star in "Sorry, Wrong Number" with Burt Lancaster for him instead. . . Almost a thousand filmfolk will attend those opening ceremonies down at Malibu Beach for the new Quarterdeck Club. The clubhouse will cost three million dollars and have a yacht harbor to accommodate 700 boats. Thank goodness — we all won't have to drive two and three hours to get worn out sailing the seas on somebody's swank schooner!

One of the reasons Jimmy Cagney went east is to line up the movie rights for a Broadway show for his Cagney Productions. But one in which he would play a dancing role! Or have you forgotten that Jimmy used to be quite a hooper? . . . Bette Davis and Wm. Grant Sherry, who almost never night-club, at Le Pavillon vulnerable! What would you consider the best all-around bidding of everybody on this deal?

Gossip in Gotham

BROADWAYITES can't understand the so-do about the supposedly impending divorce of Diosa Costello from Pupi Campo. After the ultimate in publicity space had been garnered by the rift stories, patrons at La Martinique, where Pupi guest-starred the other night, were tossed for a loss when Diosa showed up, embraced him lavishly, and took the spotlight to tell the intrigued audience how madly she adored him. . . The town's most interesting triangle is composed of fascinating George Sanders and the two beautiful Gabor sisters, Sari and Magda. . . Henry Lustig amazed his guards on his trip to prison by his laughter, composure and seemingly gay conversation. . . But when he got to the prison and was told to remove his clothes and ring, he lost control and burst into sobs. . . Irene Dunne cancelled her New York trip because of the illness of her aunt, Alice Henry.

TOPS IN TOWN: Andy Russell's Capitol disc of "Muchachita" . . . Mazzone and Abbott, the Apache act at the Latin Quarter . . . Lisa Kirk's torching of "The Gentleman Is A Dope" for RCA-Victor . . . Sid Caesar's comedy at the Roxy . . . The Gallery Artists Christmas card-reproduction of Dali, Picasso, Van Gogh, etc. . . Gay Claridge's orchestra at the Edison Green Room . . . Louis Armstrong's exciting Jazz concert—A One Night Stand—at Carnegie Hall Saturday night . . . Polish rum cake with ice cream pudding at the Polanaisa . . . Singer Sonia Cortis at Le Ruban Bleu.

Moss Hart has been elected president of the Dramatists' Guild. . . The John Loves (she was Ruby Keeler of the real life John Story) are exonerating their fourth baby in May. . . Lily Pons is on the mend after a ten-day bout with the flu. . . Franz Steninger, who adapted the Tchaikovsky melodies for "Music In My Heart" is reading a new musical with Rudolph Friml—for the Shuberts. Champ Joe Louis has given up plans to open a huge gymnasium on the 54th St. corner of Broadway where a giant new drug store is being built. Instead, a foreign language radio station will be installed. . . Dane Clark and wife Margo will give it "one last try" . . . A major movie company offered to buy "Arch of Triumph" from Enterprise for $8,000,000—but was turned down. . . Is Ned Irish slated to become the Mr. Big of boxing at Madison Square Garden?

There's a big stir in the police department over those 52nd St. arrests last week-end. The police who made the pinches, on narcotic violations, were stepping on the toes of another group of cops. On top of the mild feuding resulting from that situation, scores of confidential squad investigators are checking all cafes looking for violations. . . Edda Ciano (Mussolini's daughter) and Neapolitan jeweler Franco Caunana will walk down the aisle soon. . . The Rita LeRoy-Jimmy Fritz romance is running into family opposition. Her family. . . Lana Turner, here awaiting Tyrone Power's return from Europe and Africa, seems to be taking an interest in other lads again. He'd better hurry home if he wants to keep the franchise!

ALL ABOUT THE TOWN Try It on Yourself... Start of Olympics...

QUIZ — No competitor of Dr. George W. Crane and his "The Worry Clinic" is this column. Usually the lad who tries to solve the other person's problems takes it on the chin. But here's an intriguing little quiz maybe you'd like to try on yourself. It's designed to reveal just how much happiness is in your marriage. You've got to be honest, now. So start! . . . Would your first reaction be, "Of course I'd be happy to be with you," if your husband unexpectedly proposed moving to another town or even to a foreign country? . . .

DO YOU FEEL reasonably certain that if your husband got into serious trouble, he would turn first to you? Do you get an instinctive feeling of happiness when you know he's in good spirits and feels fit? . . . Does he frequently discuss his business with you? . . . Do you enjoy talking with him about his business? . . . Does he frequently help you with the dishes or other household chores in your department of the home? . . . Do you help him with the gardening, home repair work or other tasks in his department? . . .

IS THERE any book you both have read and discussed recently? . . . Do you participate together in any recreational sport? . . . Do most of his friends like you? . . . Do you like most of his friends? . . . Can you remember in some detail what you and he talked about last night? . . . Do you and he generally enjoy the same radio programs? . . . When he talks to you about something that interests him much more than it does you, do you really try to listen to what he's saying rather than day-dream about something else? . . . Do you like your husband's company as much as that of any girl you know? . . . That's it. Count your "yes" answers. Their number will tell you how happily you're married, the experts say!

SERVICE — A mortuary in a nearby city is now advertising a baby sitter service for the families of bereaved patrons and their friends. The mortuary will send a baby sitter to the homes of the immediate mourners and if the mourners have friends who can't make the funeral services, a baby sitter is available for them as well.

OLYMPICS — The Olympic games are being ballyhooed by the sports editors. So maybe some background is appropriate at this time. The first of the modern Olympic Games took place at Athens in 1896, on the site where the ancient festivals had ended 1500 years before, according to the Encyclopaedia Britannica. Credit for the revival of the Olympic Games is due Baron Pierre de Coubertin. On January 15 1894, he wrote to all the governing bodies of sport pointing out the educational value of sport to modern peoples, if practiced in accordance with ancient Greek ideals.

YOUR HEALTH
By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M. D.

A PATIENT who has once undergone an operation for the removal of kidney stones wants, above all things else, some method to prevent other stones from forming. While we do not know the exact cause of the formation of the stones in the first place, there are certain precautions which can be taken to guard against their recurrence. These things include regulation of the diet according to the make-up of the stone removed, the elimination of all infection, and X-ray examination every three months. Each day the acidity of the urine is determined, and from time to time, the amount of calcium or lime eliminated in the urine is tested. Many physicians believe that, in the majority of those with kidney stones, there is a deficiency of vitamin A. Hence, those patients who have had kidney stones are given vitamin A in large amounts. Infections may be present in the teeth, tonsils, or in the prostate gland and, if they are found, they should be eliminated.

Many germs which are present in infections of the urinary tract have the ability to break up the urea which is present in the urine into ammonia and carbon dioxide. This process favors the formation of phosphates which do not dissolve in the body, and these phosphates may form into kidney stones. Hence, if the patient has a urinary tract infection, the type of germs causing it should be determined, and then the proper measures taken to eliminate these organisms.

In six out of every ten patients with kidney stones, an increased amount of calcium in the urine has been noted. When the kidney stones are made up of calcium salts, the amount of calcium excreted in the urine may be lessened by using a diet which is acid-ash forming, by giving vitamin D and by varying the dietary intake of calcium and phosphorus.

Excessive amounts of phosphorus in the urine may be due to using a diet, which is alkaline-ash forming, for too long a period of time. Patients who have had kidney stones should make sure that they drink large amounts of fluids. The acid-ash diet should be used when the stones are made up of carbonates and phosphates, and the alkaline-ash diet when the stones are made up of cystine, xanthine and uric acid.

I have outlined alkaline-ash and acid-ash diets which I shall be glad to forward to those who care to send for them, enclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope. Names will not be used. Of course, such a diet should be employed only under the direction of a physician.

Philadelphia Man On Program Tonight For Jewish Appeal

Maurice Miller, Pottstown campaign chairman for the United Jewish Appeal, last night announced that another speaker, Israel Sable, Philadelphia agency head for the UJA, will be heard tonight when the campaign opens with a dinner in Mercy and Truth synagogues' vestry rooms at 6:30 o'clock.

Under Sable's leadership, Miller said, the Philadelphia unit so far this year has collected more than $8,000,000 for UJA, thus outstripping the Red Cross in that city.

In addition to Sable, Mrs. Sophie Spanjaard, former concentration camp prisoner, will address the meeting which launches a drive in Pottstown for $25,000 over one and a half times the amount requested last year.

Miller said inflation and increased demands on the funds had upped this year's quota. The fund's aim is succor of 1,500,000 Jews in Europe.

The response so far in Pottstown to the drive has been admirable, Miller declared. Some working men, he said, have volunteered to give up two weeks pay to the cause and many are giving beyond their means.

Evans streets, but neither was injured.

Hart was driving west on Beech street when his car was struck in the rear by Conner's, which was going south on Evans street.

Conner told Motor Patrolman Harold E. Hahn that he did not see Hart's automobile in time to stop and avoid the collision.

The right rear fender of Hart's car was damaged and the front bumper and fog light of Conner's vehicle suffered damage.

Fifteen minutes later a New York City resident was involved with a Pottsonian in an accident on High street near Warren street.

He was Frederick Crasston, who drove from Warren street and made a right turn to go west on High street.

John Connell, of 907 South street, tried to pass Crasston at that time, with the result that his car hit Crasston's.

The entire right side of the New Yorker's vehicle was smashed, but Connell's car had only a damaged left fender.

Patrolman Paul Galloway investigated.

Authorities took Miss Rosenblatt to the Blue river today but they said she was confused and was unable to point out the spot where Carlson's body was reported to have been thrown. The hunt for the body was suspended for the night.

Miss Rosenblatt said she came to Madison Friday night to attend a football game. She said Carlson, a four-year Navy veteran, was a pre-medical student at the University of Wisconsin.

Man Is Arrested On Morals Charge

PHOENIXVILLE, Nov. 16—Norman Stanley, a 41-year-old carpenter of Phoenixville RD 2, was arrested Friday evening on a charge of conducting himself improperly in the presence of three small girls.

Pvt. William F. Petrie, of the Devon sub-station, State police, arrested Stanley, a married man, after a resident of Kleyona village, a settlement near Phoenixville, where the offender lives, complained of the carpenter's actions.

Police said that the girls had not been harmed, and the charge against Stanley, under which he was remanded to the Chester county prison at West Chester, was public indecency.

Under this charge, they said, the man could not be released on bail, and he will be held in prison until he is heard by the county court.

Although the girls, whose ages vary from five to six years, said that Stanley had not molested them, they were examined by a physician.

political leaders.

It was reported without confirmation that Reynaud, an independent, would have the support of the Socialist party in his efforts to form a new cabinet.

While these maneuvers were taking place on the national level, tension between the Communists and all other political parties in France built up in Paris tonight a few hours before de Gaulle's rally prepared to take over the city government.

The Socialist newspaper Populaire said the Communists were planning to duplicate in the capital the attack they made Wednesday on the palace of justice and the city hall in Marseille. The Communist move is being arranged, the paper charged, on orders of the new Communist international organization with headquarters in Belgrade.

40-Hour Devotion Opens At St. Peter's Church

The Rev. John Pius, missionary from Pulaski, Wis., last night opened the 40-Hour devotion at St. Peter's Roman Catholic church with the first of four sermons he will deliver to the congregation. It dealt with Holy Communion.

The visiting missionary stressed the reality of God's presence in the sacrament and urged parishioners to partake of the sacrament more often.

The Rev. Pius will present the next sermon this morning at 7:30 o'clock. The remaining two will be preached at 7:30 p. m. tonight and 7:30 a. m. tomorrow. All the sermons are given in Polish and English.

Prince Says County Pay 42 Percent Over 1936

Employees of Montgomery county and its boroughs are being paid 42 percent more today than they were in 1936, Joseph L. Prince, Pottstown lawyer, told the 12th annual meeting of the Municipal and Local Finance Officers of Pennsylvania Saturday at State College.

This rise, the attorney pointed out, contrasted to the average of only 36 percent in Pennsylvania agricultural counties during that period.

Representing Montgomery county in behalf of the State Association of County Controllers, Prince declared that the enactment of Act 641, empowering boroughs to levy special taxes heretofore denied them, can result in even higher salaries for local workers.

The solicitor for the county controller's office went on to say that standardization of local government workers' wages was almost impossible due to varying wealth of the communities.

Kovach Re-elected Head Of Holy Trinity Club

In an afternoon election yesterday members of the Holy Trinity Catholic club returned the entire bank of five officers, headed by Michael Kovach, president, to another year in office, their third.

The other re-elected officers are George Riba, vice president; Stephen J. Vagasky, financial secretary; George W. Zeleznick, treasurer, and Andrew Hermansky, recorder.

The group will take office Jan. 1. The board of directors includes John J. Vagasky and Joseph Zunio, for three years, and Michael Barlos and Michael Kovach, one year.

The balloting took place between 1:30 and 6 p. m.

86 Persons Attend Woman's Club Luncheon In Honor of Organization's 8th Anniversary

Eighty-six members and guests of the Woman's Club of Boyletown saw Florence Huet, Philadelphia, present a three-act solo-drama, "Mary Todd Lincoln," on Saturday in the Boyletown inn as the local club observed its eighth birthday at its traditional anniversary luncheon.

Miss Huet, in costume for each scene, presented episodes from the life of Mrs. Lincoln during her courtship years; when she was in the White House during her husband's presidency; and the tragic years which followed his assassination in 1865.

Included among the guests were 16 presidents or representatives of presidents of women's clubs in Berks County. The Rev. John B. Frantz, of Pottstown, was vocal soloist for the occasion.

Decorations for the meeting, done by Mrs. Isaac Y. Stauffer of the club's art division, featured an ocean motif and were called "Sea Fantasy." On the speakers table were three trays, each of which contained items from the sea such as coral and shells. Connecting the three trays were large shells from which smaller ones fanned out. Ivy was found in the background. Fall flowers were placed on other tables.

Mrs. I. Ralph March, president of the host club, gave a welcome address at the opening of the meeting, followed by singing of the collect for club women, "A Prayer for the Day," by Mrs. Frank Frantz.

In her remarks, Mrs. March said: "As we observe together our eighth anniversary, I want to add a special welcome to our former members present who have moved away but returned to be with us on this occasion. Our club has grown in numbers in these years and I hope the added fellowship has caused our luncheons to grow in enjoyment."

Following the dinner, Mrs. March introduced the representatives of

2 Committees Named By St. John's Church

Two committees were recently named in the Main department of the Sunday school of St. John's Evangelical Lutheran church.

They are special program committee — Mrs. Ammon Reintner, Mrs. Walter V. Davidheiser, and Mrs. Harvey D. Ritter; permanent record committee — Samuel W. Weiss, Mrs. Walter W. Davidheiser, Edna Mecherly, Esther Renninger, Mrs. Florence Pegley, Mrs. Merrill Swinehart and Helen Weller.

PERSONALS

The Rev. Harper L. Schneek, pastor of Church of the Good Shepherd, Evangelical and Reformed, will speak at the annual choir banquet of the Schwarzwald church Wednesday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald G. Kochel and family have moved into home previously occupied by Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Dill at 424 East Fourth street. The Dills have taken up residence in Washington, D. C. The Kochels formerly lived in Mest apartments.

Ralph C. Body, Boyletown attorney, was named chairman of the committee on admissions of the Berks County Bar association. It was announced Saturday by Luther H. Best, president.

DEATHS - FUNERALS

Funeral services for EMMA V. FREDERICK, GILBERTSVILLE, were held yesterday at 2:30 p. m. from a funeral home at 124 West Philadelphia avenue, Boyletown.

The Rev. David F. Longacre, pastor of St. John's Evangelical Lutheran church, officiated. Burial was made in Fairview cemetery, Boyletown. Bearers were Stanley and Elmo Underkoffler, Russell, Charles and Ernest Miller and Alvin Seitz.

Students Honored For Yearbook Sales

Two Boyletown High homerooms were entertained at a Saturday night party in the high school cafeteria for winning a yearbook-sponsored drive for patrons to the "1948 Bear" high school annual.

The rooms were the 12-A and the 11-B sections and the hosts were members of the business staff of the yearbook. Eleanor Mader and Marilyn Neuman were in charge of games. Refreshments followed and the party closed with dancing. Alfie Haddad, the book's business manager, was general chairman.

Present were Titus Riegner, James Houpp, Henry D. Johnson, Forrest Fryer, Marilyn Albright, Richard Seitz, Ralph Miller, Donald Johnson, Gertrude Westler, Dorothy Stauffer, Nancy Stevens, Ruth Yerger, John Bechtel, Mary Jane McCusker, Herman Kumpf, Raymond Pettijohn and Paul Manville.

Also Harold Weiss, Stephen Jay McNeely, Kenneth Nyck, William Dinkelberger, Frank Cressman, Marguerite Leister, Mary Jane Kutz, Barbara Keller, Patsy Mathias, Harry Reiff, Miriam Moser, Miss Melcher, Miss Neuman and Miss Haddad.

100 Persons Attend Women's Guild Social

About 100 members and guests of the Women's Guild of Church of the Good Shepherd, Evangelical and Reformed, attended the group's birthday social recently in the church school rooms.

Mrs. Thomas Gabel gave a short historical sketch of the work of the guild, tracing its early beginning and then mentioning its outstanding achievements to the present. Motion pictures were shown depicting a year's experience with the children of Bethany Orphans home, Womelsdorf.

A total of $57 was received at the meeting for the Bethany home.

BAUSE TO ADDRESS ROTARY

Daniel E. Bause, Boyletown druggist, will address the West Reading-Wyomissing Rotary club at its next meeting, Thursday at 12:10 p. m. in the Club Cool.

Supertronics Give Best Hearing Aid On Market Today

You'll certainly enjoy better hearing with one of those Supertronics, sold by Gurney Bechtel, 435 High Street, Phone 2491.

Mr. Bechtel, who has years of experience in this field and who knows from practical experience, says: "With the purchase of this fine precision-built instrument, you possess what we believe to be the best hearing aid on the market."

It has great battery economy, at the light weight of six ounces all-in-one unit. Your Supertronic incorporates the latest engineering advances in tube design, microphone and circuit components.

Mr. Bechtel also offers service at all times on these hearing aids as well as other makes.

Good Radiator Heating Assurance of Warm Home

Good radiator heating means a well-warmed home where cozy comfort prevails, regardless of zero days or wintry blasts.

It heats the home thoroughly by an ideal combination of radiant and convection heat. It also represents an investment that pays dividends in heating satisfaction, fuel-saving, trouble-free operation, and in lasting service.

These facts are pointed out by General Heating & Plumbing Supply company, 29 High Street, Phone 1154-J. Boilers and radiators are sold here, and installations made.

And now is the time to have this important matter attended to.

FOUR MINES SIGHTED

Sunshine Store Is Home of Wayne Feeds

Naturally when you think of the Sunshine Feed store, Franklin and Laurel streets, you think of feeds and true this establishment is the home of Wayne feeds for every need.

Wayne feeds are known, too, in this area for they are time-tested. Farmers who use them are enthusiastic about results and now with the approach of colder weather your poultry and stock should have the best feeds to promote growth and keep away winter ills.

But the Sunshine Feed store sells something besides Wayne feeds, too.

Just glance at a list of the products: dog food, all sizes; Vigoro, all sizes; garden sprays and insecticides, lawn seeds, peat moss, Glidden paints and brushes, fly spray with or without DDT, milking machines, milk house heaters, wash tanks, binder twine, poultry equipment and remedies, roll roofing.

White Fall Flowers Decorate Church As Robert E. Mauger Weds in Reading

The bride placed a bouquet of white chrysanthemums and pom-poms on the altar of the Blessed Virgin Mary following the nuptial mass that united her in marriage with Mr. Robert E. Mauger on Saturday morning at 9 o'clock in St. Peter's Roman Catholic church, Reading.

Gowned in white satin, the bride was the former Mary Jane A. Noll, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William A. Noll, 1336 Good street, Reading. Mr. Mauger is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul R. Mauger, 4 Walnut street.

Before an altar decorated with white chrysanthemums, pom-poms and palms the double ring ceremony was officiated by the Rev. Leo Gatens.

Prof. George Hoage, organist, accompanied Mrs. Philip Jones and Mr. Arthur Watson, cousin of the bride, soloists, in a recital of nuptial music prior to the ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown styled with an illusion neckline and an off-the-shoulder yoke, fitted bodice and long sleeves pointed at the wrists. The hooped skirt was gathered at the bottom, displaying an Irish lace petticoat. The gown also featured a long train.

On her head she wore a crown of satin mounting her hair with a long veil. She carried a white gown covered prayer book designed with roses and topped with white roses, from which fell white satin streamers tipped with lilacs-of-the-valley.

Miss Rita R. Noll, a sister of the bride, was the maid of honor. She wore a gown of gold taffeta styled on the same lines as that of the bride. Her headpiece was a feathered tiara of gold matching her gown. She wore matching gauntlets and carried an old-fashioned bouquet of bronze and gold chrysanthemums.

The bridesmaids were Miss M. June Noggle, of Carlisle; Miss Mary Ellen Monahan and Miss Helene B. Noll, a sister of the bride.

They wore gowns styled like that of the maid of honor, with the matching accessories. Their gowns were of fuchsia, aqua and old rose color and they carried old-fashioned bouquets of gold and bronze pom-poms with oak leaves.

Mr. Hugh Kelley acted as best man. Ushers were Messrs. Joseph and Richard Noll, brothers of the bride, and Thomas Neafcy.

The mother of the bride was attired in an aqua dress with black accessories and Mrs. Mauger, mother of the bridegroom, wore a black dress with black accessories. Both wore corsages of white pom-poms.

Following the wedding a breakfast was served in the Abraham Lincoln Hotel, Reading, after which the couple left on a honeymoon trip to New York City.

For traveling Mrs. Mauger chose a gray fault suit with black accessories. On their return they will reside at 23 Walnut street.

Out of town guests attended from Washington, D. C., Carlisle, Philadelphia, New York, Baltimore and Lebanon.

Mrs. Mauger was graduated from Reading Catholic High school, in the class of 1943, and the Pottstown Hospital School of Nursing, class of 1947. She is employed at the hospital.

The bridegroom graduated from Pottstown High school, class of 1942, and is employed at the Spicer Manufacturing company as an inspector.

Mrs. William Noll, mother of the bride, served a pre-nuptial dinner prior to the wedding rehearsal on Friday night.

Lincoln PTA to Hear Round Table Discussion

The executive board of the Lincoln PTA met recently in the home of Mrs. Allan Davidheiser, Prospect street, and completed plans for the annual Father's night program.

"World Understand," will be the topic at a round table discussion by the Rabbi E. Schorsch, of Mercy and Truth Synagog; Mrs. Alexander Groskan, secretary of Pennsylvania Congress of Parents and Teachers, and Mr. William Carden, extension director of YMCA.

Vocal selections will also be presented by Mr. Carden. Mrs. Eugene Smith will be in charge of the program.

The finance committee with Mrs. George Emery as chairman will present a candlelight tea on Dec. 5. Mrs. Davidheiser, chairman, and Mrs. William Weiss, Mrs. Carl Johnson and Mrs. Thomas Jobe are in charge of the arrangements for the children's Christmas party.

Members present were Mrs. James Johnson, Mrs. Charles Roland, Mrs. Margaret Edwards, Mrs. Donald Haury, Mrs. Ernest Kulp, Mrs. Katherine Minter, Mrs. Walter Zeigler, Mrs. Hugh Craig, Miss Edith Nagle and Miss Dorothy Barkel.

Class Play Presented By High School Seniors

Members of the Pottstown Senior High school class of 1948 recently presented their senior class play in the High school auditorium.

The play evolved about a precocious young German boy who comes to live in a large university town in the Middle Western section of the United States, and whose arrogant and sadistic behavior proves to be very trying to those who are closely connected with him.

Those playing in principle roles were Pete Roth, Catherine Elliott, Marie Christman and Olga Hritzko; other members of the cast were Betty Pearson, Richard LaRose, Thomas E. Miller, Andrew Downie, Charles Emery and Robert Gaugler.

Miss Emily E. Baldwin directed and the scenery was supervised by Mr. Nelson Grofe.

Emile Kappes and Beverly Wagner. Sound effects were provided by Richard Scheffey.

Music was provided by the Pottstown High school band under the direction of Mr. William F. Lamb Jr.

Rupert PTA to Stage Father's Night Tomorrow

Mary Lou Howard, of Philadelphia, former USO entertainer at Texas, will entertain tomorrow night at a meeting of the Rupert PTA for Father's night.

Reservations for the dinner which starts at 6:30 o'clock can be made until tonight at 6 o'clock at the school.

Herman Lichtman, a violinist, also will entertain with solos.

The fathers will be in charge of the meeting. All mothers were asked to be present.

Daniels-Harriman Nuptial Rites Performed in Home

Simplicity marked the wedding of Mrs. Valda L. Daniels and Mr. Robert H. Harriman on Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock in the home of the Rev. Dr. J. J. Kline, 220 Chestnut street, who performed the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Horace Swavely, 68 Beech street, and Mr. Harriman is the son of Mrs. Grace V. Bowers, 635 Gordon street, Allentown.

Attired in a green wool suit with black accessories the bride wore a white orchid corsage. Her sister and only attendant, Mrs. Robert Frederick, wore a gray two piece dress with black accessories and a corsage of pink roses.

Duties of best man were performed by Mr. Gerald Swavely, brother of the bride.

Mrs. Swavely, mother of the bride, chose a dark green dress with black accessories and a corsage of yellow and rust fall flowers. Mrs. Bowers, mother of the bridegroom, wore a black dress with black accessories and a corsage of pink and white fall flowers.

Relatives and friends attended the wedding reception at the Laurel Locks tearoom following the ceremony.

The couple left on a honeymoon trip to New York City. On their return they will reside at 247 High street, apartment 2.

BEATRICE FAIRFAX'S Advice to the Lovelorn Escape From Home-Sized 'Slave Camp'

ONE of the strangest situations that has come to my attention for some time is described in the following letter:

"I am a girl of 20 and have been going with a young man of the same age since our second year in high school. Neither has ever dated anyone else.

"After we graduated, we became engaged, but only after getting the consent of my parents and an uncle and aunt who live with us. Now, the problem is that my aunt and uncle are the owners and the main support of our home. They are also the 'bosses,' telling my father, mother, sister and myself, for the past ten years, what to wear, what to do, where to go, and with whom. My fiancé thinks I shouldn't have to take orders from them, but when my uncle heard about this, he gave me orders not to see him any more, or else."

"What can I do? I don't wish to hurt my parents, but it is unbearable and I can feel myself going to pieces. I want to go to work, but they will not hear of it. The young man wants me to marry him, but I am afraid of what my uncle might do to my parents and sister. My friend has a good position, is temperate and sincere."

Now it seems to me that there is no situation in the world in which a girl of 20 should have to remain under the control of such domineering people, who sound more like jailers than relatives. In fact, I think it is very wrong for her to do so.

It seems fantastic, too, that any man and wife would keep on living with relatives under such circumstances. The only reason I can imagine for it would be that they were both ill and neither of them able to work. If the husband could get any kind of job, even though the pay were small and they had to live very carefully, I should think this would be infinitely preferable to a home with such disagreeable characters.

For two people to keep two adults, a 20-year-old girl, and another girl in what amounts to virtual slavery, holding them in line with threats, is something like setting up a home-sized Buchenwald or Dachau. The girl who writes this letter should be old enough to take decisive steps in putting an end to such incredible conditions, even if that first step means no more than that she defies the orders of her uncle and aunt and marries her boy friend.

There is no reason in the world why she should sacrifice her life because she is afraid of reprisals.

Robert E. Miller Weds Germantown Girl Before Many Out-of-Town Guests Here

Out-of-town guests arrived from Florida, Baltimore, Md., Coatesville, Philadelphia, Long Island, N. Y., New York City, Mt. Vernon, N. Y., Allentown and Upper Darby to witness the wedding of Miss Marion Rowen and Mr. Robert Edward Miller yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock in the Mercy and Truth synagog.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Emil Rowen, Germantown, and Mr. Miller is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Miller, 960 North Charlotte street.

White chrysanthemums, gladioli, ferns and candelabra decorated the synagog. Bridal music was presented by Mr. and Mrs. Earl S. Yohn. The Rabbi Emil Schorsch assisted by the Rev. H. G. Blatt, performed the ceremony.

One bride looked picturesque in her gown of white satin styled with a sweetheart neckline, fitted bodice and a full skirt. The sleeves were long and pointed at the wrists and she had a long train.

Her fingertip veil fell from a band with clusters of white flowers on either side. She carried a bouquet of white roses and bouvardia.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose Mrs. Herman Lichtman as her matron of honor. She was gown in gold satin of ballerina length with brown accessories. She also wore a brown bow with gold sequins on the back of her head. Her bouquet was a cascade of gold and rust chrysanthemums.

Miss Josephine Miller, the maid of honor, was gown in cerise satin with gold accessories and a matching bow on the back of her head. She carried pink and maroon chrysanthemums.

Marilyn and Sheila Lichtman, twins, were the flower girls. They were gown in pale blue organdy, trimmed with pink rosebuds and carried pink and white chrysanthemums with matching wreaths in their hair. Duties of ring bearer were performed by Richard Berger.

Mr. Herbert Phillips served as best man. Ushers were Messrs. Herman Lichtman, Saul Berger, Harold Krasnick, Aaron Hoffman, Stanley Miller and Paul Gross.

The mother of the bride was attired in brown lace with silver accessories and a corsage of green orchids. Mrs. Miller, mother of the bridegroom, wore an aqua dress with gold accessories and a deep purple orchid corsage.

Following the ceremony a reception was held following a dinner in the synagog.

The couple left on a honeymoon trip to Florida and Bermuda. For traveling Mrs. Miller chose a black suit with black accessories and an orchid corsage.

Mrs. George Brimmer, vice president; Mrs. Ernest Andes, secretary, and Mrs. Warren Wade, treasurer.

It was announced that no meeting is scheduled for the latter part of November due to the Thanksgiving holiday.

Trojans Take 7-0 Decision From Bridgeport Eleven

Mauger Scampers 50 Yards To Score in First Period; 4-Game Losing Streak Ends

By ELMER PANOC
(Mercury Sports Editor)

With a muddy field, cold drizzle and a small throng of chilly fans forming the setting, Pottstown High's grid team put on a show of ground maneuvers Saturday afternoon at Bridgeport to defeat the Dragons, 7-0.

It was the second victory of the year for Pottstown, ending a four-game losing streak and bringing the record to two wins, five losses and a tie. For Bridgeport it was the fifth setback of the year as compared to two wins.

The Trojans showed a lot more offensive power than the score indicates, for the muddy field and the wet ball often stopped the blue and white gridders from driving for a touchdown.

Many of the 600 fans standing in the stands shivering from the cold wind and rain claim it was the best showing of the Trojans this year. Coach Herb Meyers charged forward with a strong ground attack despite the muddy turf and Bridgeport had its hands full trying to stop the speedy Trojan backs.

Led by Bob "Chubby" Stouch, Bobby Mauger and Pete Peroni, the Trojans easily outgained the Dragons from the south side of the Schuylkill river. The backs played a big part in the defensive play of Pottstown as well as the offense. The Dragons were dangerous with passing, but the small backfield men of the Blue and White prevented any serious penetration into Pottstown territory.

The Trojan line played its best game of the year by far. From right end to the left end, each man played his part well. Gene Feack, kept out of the starting lineup because of a sore arm, entered the game midway through the first period and played nearly every minute thereafter. He was a standout in the Trojan line on offense and defense with his tackling and blocking and even extinguished a Bridgeport spark late in the final period by intercepting a pass.

Kenny Saylor, sophomore left guard, also was a standout in the Trojan line. He was a thorn in the Dragons' side everywhere the home team was in possession of the ball. Jim Roup, filling in for the injured Pete Shaner, played well at his right tackle position and Bob Calvario, Trojan right guard and co-captain, brought comment from the fans.

Paul Neuschwander and George Rath mastered the duties at the positions as the Trojans started to work as a team. Everyone played his part well and Coach Herb Meyers had a big smile on his face when the referee tossed the ball into the air at the end of the tussle.

The Trojans netted their touchdown midway through the first period. The Pottstown combine received a Bridgeport punt and moved to a first down on the 50-yard stripe. A line play picked up two yards before a Bridgeport lineman broke through to throw a Trojan back for a loss putting the pigskin on the 50 again. Mauger went into punt formation. The Trojan quarterback faked a punt and headed for the sidelines to his right.

Three Bridgeport players greeted him at the scrimmage line and tugged at his jersey. Mauger gave a slight twist and broke into the clear, continuing down the sidelines. He picked up a few blocks along the way and scampered 50 yards for the six-pointer. Johnny Snyder added the extra point with a placement boot and the Trojans were in front by seven points.

Earlier in that same period, the Trojans took a fumble on the Bridgeport 46-yard line and marched to the Dragons' 20-yard stripe before losing the ball by the same way which they got it—a fumble. In the third period, Chubby Stouch galloped 30 yards before being brought down by the safety man on the Bridgeport 35. A 15-yard penalty moved the ball to the 26 before a Trojan back lost his grip on the wet ball and Bridgeport recovered.

Another scoring opportunity came in the final period when Pete Peroni and Stouch kicked the pigskin into Bridgeport territory. Mauger connected with a jump pass to Feack on the Dragons' 30-yard line before a penalty pushed the Trojans back. Following a short punt the Trojans recovered a fumble on the Bridgeport 18 and the fans sensed another touchdown. A Bridgeport back, however, snagged a Trojan pass on the Bridgeport 9-yard line and the drive was halted.

Twin-Boro AA Loses by 12-10 To Rockne Foe

A battle of brains, brawn and passes entertained a crowd of 1200 or more rooters yesterday afternoon, when the Twin-Boro AA went down fighting before the fast Rockne AA, Philadelphia eleven, by a 12 to 10 verdict at Lake View park. The contest was the best staged on the home field this season.

Another run, nearly the length of the field by Bob Tyson, Twin-Boro halfback, brought the spectators to their toes when he intercepted a pass on his own three-yard line in the second quarter and put his team in the lead with a 97-yard sprint for a touchdown.

The home club scored first in the first period soon after Raquet sent the opening kick-off to a Rockne player, who was downed on the 35-yard line. They fumbled on the first play and Twin-Boros advanced to the Rockne door-step, where Mungin kicked a field goal from the 30-yard line.

The Trojans netted their touchdown midway through the first period. The Pottstown combine received a Bridgeport punt and moved to a first down on the 50-yard stripe. A line play picked up two yards before a Bridgeport lineman broke through to throw a Trojan back for a loss putting the pigskin on the 50 again. Mauger went into punt formation. The Trojan quarterback faked a punt and headed for the sidelines to his right.

Three Bridgeport players greeted him at the scrimmage line and tugged at his jersey. Mauger gave a slight twist and broke into the clear, continuing down the sidelines. He picked up a few blocks along the way and scampered 50 yards for the six-pointer. Johnny Snyder added the extra point with a placement boot and the Trojans were in front by seven points.

Boyertown Loses To Pirates by 13-0

Scoring a touchdown in each of the middle periods, Spring City High's Pirates rolled to a 13-0 victory over Boyertown High Saturday afternoon on the Bears' field.

One player was responsible for all of the Spring City scoring, tallying both touchdowns and one extra point. Jimmy Dell, speedy Pirate halfback, bucked over for the six-pointers in the second and third periods.

The Pirates displayed a powerful ground offense and gained all their ground with a flashy running attack. In the second period, a drive carried to the 1-yard line from where Dell bucked over for the score. Again in the third period, the Pirates marched on the ground to the Boyertown one from where Dell plunged for the score. This time he booted the extra point.

The Bears threatened to net a touchdown only once. Shortly before the half ended, Coach Bob Fleming's charges drove to the Spring City 2-foot line where the Pirates held on downs.

Saturday's game was the final game before the annual Thanksgiving Day battles for both teams.

EAGLES HOLD FIRST PLACE IN MONTICO LOOP

500 Fans See Penalty Nullify Falcon Score in First Period of Game

Royersford High's gridders assured themselves of at least a tie for the Montico league championship Saturday afternoon, but the Eagles had to use all of their tricks to defeat a scrappy West Pottsgrove aggregation, 13-6.

A cold wind and a light drizzle held the crowd down to 500 fans, but those fans who did see the game went home talking about one of the best football games ever seen at West Pottsgrove. The Eagles scored once in the second period and once in the third and West Pottsgrove tallied its lone touchdown in the final quarter. One Falcon touchdown was nullified by a penalty.

The victory for Royersford keeps the Eagles perched atop the Montico league with four victories and no defeats. The Eagles can take the title Saturday afternoon by defeating East Greenville—a team that handed the Falcons a 7-6 setback. The defeat knocked the Falcons out of a tie for second place and Coach Bill Goheen's charges now occupy third place with a record of three wins and two defeats.

After being outplayed in the first period, the Eagles struck midway through the second period for their first six-pointer. Ace Miller snagged a Johnny Fearheller aerial for a 40-yard gain moving the ball deep into West Pottsgrove territory. A few ground plays carried to the 9-yard stripe, from where Fearheller scampered around the end for the touchdown. The try for the extra point failed. The half ended with the Eagles in front, 6-0.

Midway through the third quarter, Royersford took possession of the pigskin on the Falcon 40 and moved to the 30-yard stripe for a first down. Fearheller then tossed another aerial to Ace Miller, and the Royersford end took it in the end zone for a touchdown. Fearheller passed to Di Giuseppe for the extra point.

The Falcons came back in the fourth period to score their lone six-pointer. The West Pottsgrove combine used passes to move to the Royersford 20-yard stripe, from where Joe Dori tossed a pass to Sam DiGiulia for the score.

The Falcons had a great opportunity to take a lead in the first period. Shortly after the kickoff, West Pottsgrove marched to the Royersford five yard stripe where they lost the ball on downs.

Early in the second period the Falcons had another chance to score. The Eagles were forced back to their own two-yard stripe and a Royersford back fumbled. Steve Saylor recovered the pigskin in the Royersford end zone for a touchdown, but the play was nullified because of an unnecessary penalty against the Falcons.

The Falcons will be idle until they battle North Coventry in the annual Thanksgiving Day classic on Pottstown's Franklin field.

North Coventry's Wildcats Top Upper Chichester, 25-0, As Batdorf Scores 3 Times

Led by Captain Tim Batdorf, North Coventry High's Wildcats treated 200 shivering fans to a 25-0 victory over Upper Chichester High Saturday afternoon on the Norco field.

Batdorf scored three touchdowns and passed for a fourth as he paced his team to its fifth win of the season. Coach Bill Paolantonio's Wildcats have lost twice.

Despite the muddy field, the Wildcats' ground attack was clicking throughout the entire game. In the first period, Norco drove three times to the visitors' 10-yard line before the attack bogged down.

The play of the Norco line was outstanding and it was the charging of the Wildcats' forward wall that played a big part in the victory. It was the first time this year the Wildcats displayed such power on offense and defense.

Early in the second period, the Wildcats, led by Batdorf, Bill McCruden and Don Rupert, marched 60 yards for their first score. Batdorf climaxed the drive by going off tackle from five yards out to score. He missed the attempted conversion. Later in the same period, Batdorf passed to Bob Kepner for another six-pointer, but the play was nullified by a penalty.

Shortly after Norco kicked off, Batdorf intercepted a pass on the Upper Chichester 20 and took it to the three. On the next play he passed to Don Rupert for a six-pointer. Batdorf missed the try for the extra point.

After an exchange of punts in the third period, Norco marched 70 yards for their third six-pointer with Batdorf hitting the middle of the line from the four to score. Kepner booted the extra point.

Midway through the fourth quarter, McCruden and Orandosh paced a drive that carried to the Upper Chichester five-yard line from where Batdorf crashed over on an off tackle play. Kepner missed the extra point.
